But, ladies and. gentlemon, if there is one thing in regard to which we ought to be proud, if there is one thing which should give us more gratification than another, it is to feel how much has been done during those fifty years in the great cause of education . We know that it is not contrary to the ideas of that great empire to which this island geographically belongs to impart knowledge, but there is a great difference, there is a great distinction between education as imported in the Western nations, between education as taught is imparted in that empire of which I have made was a thoroughly well-played part. ## CORRESPONDENCE.

We do not hold curselves reaconable for the opinions expressed by our Correspondents.]

THE SUNDAY LABOUR QUESTION. TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS," DEAR SIE, If once more I ask for the fayour of space in your columns, I trust you will not consider me insatiable. The fact is that your esteemed correspondent, who calls himself "A instance of complaint re Sunday slavery, leaves have their week-day leave stopped or be paid for Sunday work on condition that their pay be stopped when on week-day leave. The answer to these wonderful problems is simply, " let the friend who propounded them in the depths of his immeasurable brain think them over before, not after dinner, and then stuff a copy of this letter into his well-seasoned pipe and amoke it." The insulting innuendees re bars, billiard rooms, and ." other localities" cannot be properly answered with a pen. If the "sailors' friend" wants to know whe ther there is a grievance or not he cannot I should say, do better than drop around and see Captain Auhton, the President of the Officers' Association, and in all simplicity and earnestness plead for "mehr light." He's sure to get it, even if the gallant skipper has to ram it down his throat with a capstan bar. In conclusion. I decline to continue arguments with this "friend." his allegations being too ridiculous to merit serious consideration. - Yours faithfully.

THE ANGLERS ELYSIUM. ____ A jaded business man who requires a change but cannot afford a long holiday could hardly do better than take a run over to Vancouver, especially if he be fond of angling. Professor Silvernail has recently described in American Angler (New York) the trout fishing he enjoyed on the Kootenay, Mr. Silvernai came through to the Paoifle two years ago and again in August last, representing the journal quoted, and then made a more extended trip through the province, which is a veritable paradise for anglers. This is Mr. Silvernail's happy description of a trip to Sprout's Landing .- That ride was one of the pleasantest episodes in my piscatorial life. The ecemery along the river was so beautiful that I frethe bank from its very beginning on a sure quently stopped my horse to admire the swift swirl of the waters as they came dashing over falls and eddies, about rocky points, foam spattered and majestic. The water of the river is by far the most beautiful I ever new. The volume, especially early in the seeson, is much greater than that of the famous burnt to death and some of the Insurance Com-Nepigon, which has so long been the great attraction to our Eastern anglers, while the falls are more numerous and grand. The refluent currents along the sides of the stream, caused by Colonial, $20,000; the Transatlantic, $20,000, and Nepigon, and the eddles and swirls beneath their clouds of spray, caused by the tumbling cataracts of the year the insurance losses would have been as they dash with deafening thunder over rocky ramparts and between craggy columns, bring to min! in many places the mad tumult below Virgin Fallant the head of the Nepigon, or the wrathful rush of waves which sing their eternal dirges at Cameron's or Hamilton's Pool." Prof. Silvernail went out to Ward's hotel, about 10 miles from Spratt's. "co impatient to wait until eventide, he sallied forth, rod in hand, and D. E. Brown's mammoth creel along over his shoulder. This is his description of that middey expedition:—"With a good sized red hackle and ware alraid to take to the water, was a likewise burnt to death in their own house. a stretcher and a smaller fly of darker pattern as a dropper, I seesyed the rapid in front of the house, and, somewhat to my surprise, my casting and we know of one merchant who asserts that Foochow ...... was soon greeted by a rise from a silver beauty, he slone lost upwards of $2,000 in that way. of about a pound weight, which out up more didoes than any trout I hooked during the whole summer's fishing. He was safely creeled, and I pushed on towards the fall. A still stretch forming almost a bey at the bend of the river, intervened between the first successful cast and the quick water below the rapids at the fall, but when this was passed, having yielded a few small trout, and the deeper and swifter waters of the stream opposite the ledge of rocks was reached, I found by a vigorous rush from some of the gamiest trout I ever caught. I hey were of the red bar-

Those he took Or the first day at Ward's were nearly all silver tront, but those on later days and farther up the stream were of the rainbow, variety withe article then recites the success of Mr. Thos. Dunu and Mr. James McDonald, of Vanconver, who visited those waters on a business trip in July taking their ruds with them. Standing in one place Mr. Dunn took ten trout, eight of which weighed 27 pounds. These were caught | 1 above the Ward's on the opposite side of the river, batween 3 and 6 o'clock in the of ernoon. The following day these goutlemen took fifteen trout from one pool, among the number, four doubles. The average weight of the 15 was one and one quarter pounds. A half-mile So further down in one hour they filled a twenty pound creek, backing, four tront at one cast. Crossing the river one afternoon and after fishing three-quarters of a mile down | Bu stream and back, their cutch weighed 82 pounds; filling a creel, and two large strings. They stopped fishing about 7 o'clock in the evening. Prof. Silvernail, after a glowing description, -takes a special care to disown any intention of booming the district. ## BANGKOK,

A peculiar though not at all unprecedented ecordent happened to one of the Slam Plotilla Company's launches at the scene of the late fire at Sampeng. The awning of the boat, a solid wooden construction of thirty-siz feet in length, was lifted straight into the air to an altitude o about twenty feet and then dropped some yards away in the river. The agency was, of course, a whirlwind cansed by the conflicting currents of heated air from the vicinity of the flames. The new American Minister to the Court of Siam, Colonel'S. H. Boyd, accompanied by Mrs. Boyd and a lady companion, arrived here on the 12th January, via Hongkong, per steamer De-vaccongse. Colonel "Pony" Boyd, of Springfield, Mo., was one of the earliest Union men in Missouri to enlist in the war for the Union, and served under General Fremont and afterwards under General Jessup. He has lately been engaged in railway building and banking, and is said to be an old and intimate triend of Secretary Blaine. We wish the Colonel's hearty welcome and hope he may prove as popular a man in this country as his immediate predecessor Colonel

Jake Child, whose departure from Siam is universally regretted. We hear that Government is now seriously thinking of establishing the long talked of National Bank of Slam. With the present capid development of this country a Royal Bank is imperatively necessary, especially as a large. number of people deem the present banking facilities inadequate to the demands of the growing trade of Siam. This of course is a matter of opinion only; but an opinion held nevertheless by a certain proportion of the residents. We trust that when Government has defluitely settled the matter it will be careful to secure the services of a manager thoroughly competent and reliable, and one who will be able to place working foundation. The loss and damage caused by the destructive fire of January 9th is more serious than we at first supposed. Later investigation puts the total loss in goods and house property at two bales pierced coceons, 70 bales waste silk, 75 million ticals, or $1,200,000. Nino persons were cases sturanissed, 4 bales hair, 177 rolls matting, panies have suffered heavily. We hear that the Singapore Insurance Company is interested to the extent of some $30,000; the Batavia and a few other companies to some $30,000, more or less. Had the fire occurred before the end much heavier; as it was, many of the policies which expired on 31st December had not been renewed, as the Chinese merchants were Thermon. 4 P.M ... awaiting the advent of the Chinese New Year. The less of life is regrettable, but not surprising when we consider the labyrinth of narrow lanes and pathways durrounding the doomed neighbourhood. A Mahometan who went to assist a friend was literally roasted alive.
